- Cameroon: One year jail term to ivory trafficker

Summary

This month was marked by good arrest operations in most of the network’s country members with 22 wildlife traffickers arrested. Gabon showed an exceptional number of 9 traffickers arrested. A trafficker has been arrested in Togo with 20 skulls and skeletons of West African Manatees. A similar amount has just been sold to Malians the previous week, exposing an organized trade in this threatened animal in a surprising magnitude. In Uganda, the newest EAGLE member continued its brilliant start with another operation that resulted in the arrest of a giant pangolin scales trafficker with a proof of rhino horns and ivory trafficking.

Many good arrest operations were also carried out in Cameroon, Congo, Guinea and Benin. Two ape traffickers were arrested in Cameroon following their attempts at selling four chimpanzee skulls. In neighbouring Congo, three wildlife traffickers were arrested for ivory trafficking. The biggest known ivory trafficker in Congo – Francois Ikama has been arrested but escaped his arrest as his son and rebel leader Marien Ikama violently intervened the operation with his gang, physically assaulting the police force and the project’s team. Corruption remains a challenge for prosecuting this powerful individual. In Guinea, 2 traffickers were arrested with 6 crocodiles, a giant tortoise, 3 vultures and a Patas Monkey. Over 150 wildlife products from 20 different wildlife species including the lion and the zebra were seized from two traffickers in Benin while investigations enabled the recovery and hatching of hundreds of sea turtle eggs.

Two years and one year imprisonment sentences were handed in Gabon and Cameroon respectively.

Two traffickers with a shocking collection of internationally traded species arrested in Benin
Cameroon – LAGA

- Two ape traffickers arrested following their attempts at selling four chimpanzee skulls in a continued crackdown on specialized trade in apes skulls.
- 3 judgements were obtained this month as the Djoum court convicted an ape skulls traffickers to 2 months of imprisonment and about 1,000 USD as damages. An ivory trafficker was convicted to one year imprisonment and about 90,000 USD in damages awarded. Ekouma Guy was convicted and given a 1 year suspended sentence and to pay around 5,500 USD as damages An appeal was filed this month against this ruling . He was arrested for shooting and killing an orphan chimpanzee whose parts he later sold as a bushmeat.

Congo – PALF

- 3 traffickers were arrested with 3 tusks in Pointe Noire. GALF assistant coordinator, Saidou Barry participated in the operations as a part of the EAGLE exchange program.
- The biggest known ivory trafficker in Congo – Francois Ikama has been arrested but escaped his arrest as his son and rebel leader Marien Ikama violently intervened the operation with his gang, physically assaulting the police force and the project’s team. Corruption remains a challenge for prosecuting this powerful individual.
- Hundreds of kilos of bushmeat were seized in Brazzaville, including over a dozen crocodiles and two dozen turtles, which were later released. Bushmeat seized at Kintele was destined for the Elonda Lodge at the outskirts of Brazzaville, despite it being closed hunting season. Instead of allowing the seizure, a powerful colonel came to the control post and forcibly seized the bushmeat from forestry officials. The same vehicle was later

Two ape traffickers arrested as they attempted to sell four chimpanzee skulls which the collected from a poacher. In an attempt to look into the future and understand whether they would be arrested or not, knowing fully well that the activity was illegal they had consulted a witch doctor before proceeding with negotiations to sell the skulls. They also promised to supply more if business was good.

■ Two suspects were declared not guilty by the Oyem court of the following charges: illegal possession, transportation and attempts at selling trophies of totally protected wildlife species. They had been notified of an appeal hearing against this judgment.

C.A.R – RALF

■ RALF project is frozen because of security problems in the country, no veritable activity was undertaken. This situation may continue for the next couple of months.
Guinea – Conakry – GALF

- Arrest of 2 traffickers with 6 crocodiles, a giant tortoise, 3 vultures and a Patas Monkey. The GALF team under the coordination of Mamadou Saidou worked in collaboration with Interpol NCB. Such a collection of animals often passes through the GALF premises. After the prosecution of the traffickers, the crocs and monkeys were released in the Badiar National Park while the birds and the tortoise were transferred to Senegal.
- The two traffickers were prosecuted for illegal capture and possession of totally protected wildlife species. They were found guilty and sentenced to 6 months comprising 3 months suspended sentence and 3 months of imprisonment.
- Trans-boundary missions and collaboration between the Guinean and Senegalese authorities on one hand and GALF and SALF on the other hand enabled to realize the transfer of animals seized in Conakry, which are not original Guinean species, to Dakar for their rehabilitation and a subsequent release into their natural milieu in Senegal. Official handing was realized over in the presence of authorities (customs, gendarmerie, the director of parks, water and forestry) from both countries.
- Meeting with UNOPS (United Nations Office for Project Services) for the training of conservators of nature (park wardens).
- The GALF legal team head was sacked after 3 years in the project for indiscipline and lack of courage. 2 others jurists resigned. A recruitment process to get a qualified and courageous jurist started in February and continued and the legal team is currently being rebuilt.
- Training and exchange mission was carried out by assistant coordinator, Saidou Barry to Congo and resulted in 2 operations in Congo.
- Perrine Odier continued her mission in the country within the EAGLE exchange programme. Saidou Barry was appointed as GALF coordinator this month after 3 solid years in the project as assistant coordinator. He replaces Charlotte Houpline in this position. Charlotte Houpline, president of WARA, the NGO that hosts the twin projects (GALF in Guinea and SALF in Senegal) shall continuously be involved in GALF management as director while also developing SALF.

Togo – TALFF

- A trafficker caught with 20 skulls and skeletons of West African Manatees. A similar amount has just been sold to Malians the previous week, exposing an organized trade in this threatened animal in a surprising magnitude. His 19 years involvement in the illegal trade in marine species is still being investigated.
- Another sea-turtle trafficker arrested in a continued crackdown with 7 sea turtle shells.

The West African Manatee, sometimes called Seacow, least studied large mammal in Africa, faces serious threats. The manatees are often referred to as the „forgotten” sirenian. The African Manatee has become a vulnerable species because it is hunted for its meat, oil, bones (used to make walking stick handles), and skin. In some countries, African Manatees are illegally exported and sold to zoos. The connection to Mali is not surprising as ear infections, rheumatism, and skin conditions are supposedly cured there by manatee oil. Their number was reduced to less than 10,000 and is in decline. It is not even clear if the small population of Togo still survived, so this seizure came as a surprise.

SENEGAL - SALF

- Legal follow-up of the case against the traffickers of Nigerien nationality arrested with 2,753 wildlife products. The session will start soon at the appeal court.
- Recruitment of a new jurist after 8 months of test.
- Recruitment process to get jurist and investigators started in January and continued currently.
- Training of magistrates (judges, prosecutor) on wildlife crime and CITES in the context of MOJUSEN project on organized crime, a international program funded by the French State in Senegal.
- Meeting with UNODC regarding SALF and EAGLE network.
- Trans-boundary missions and collaboration between the Guinean and Senegalese authorities on Benin – AALF-B

- Two traffickers arrested with a shocking collection of internationally traded species including zebra, elephant and lion. The huge seizure represents illegal international trade from different parts of the continent. The list of this huge seizure included 3 Tigrine Genet skins, 1 Blesbok Antelope skin, 6 Sitatunga Antelope skins, 1 remains of a vulture, 3 hides and three Nile crocodile heads, 95 specimens of chameleons, 9 turtle shells, 2 elephant bones, a horn of a wildebeest, 1 Patas Monkey skin, 11 Red Duiker skin, 3 jackal skins, 2 python skins, 1 leg of an ostrich, 1 pair of Guib horns, 1 head of a lion cub, 1 remains of a Hornbill, 1 squirrel, 4 hare heads and 1 zebra head.
- Green Sea Turtle and eggs were recovered. The turtle was released and eggs guarded to hatch safely, and hundreds of hatchlings later walked to the sea. This occasion was used to engage local population in protecting sea turtles in Benin.
- Finalization of the legal guide of wildlife law in Benin. Arrangements are being made for its printing and distribution.
- A mission was led to the Pendjari Park to gather information and photos on latest wildlife massacre of elephants in this important National Park, in order to obtain necessary arguments for lobbying against local authorities sabotaging the enforcement on one hand and GALF and SALF on the other hand enabled to realize the transfer of animals seized in Conakry, which are not original Guinean species, to Dakar for their rehabilitation and a subsequent release into their natural milieu in Senegal. Official handing was realized over in the presence of authorities (customs, gendarmerie, the director of parks, water and forestry) from both countries.
Investigators exchange and a visit by Ofir Drori led to the arrest of a trafficker with 128 kg of Giant Pangolin scales. The arrested suspect together with an accomplice had in their possession two pieces of rhino horn. They were arrested by the investigating officer, present in the operation, while they were trafficking ivory. When they spot the officer, they run away abandoning their vehicles.

Proof of the traffickers trading in rhino horns and ivory has been obtained.

EAGLE Uganda assisted in the investigation of seizure of 500 kg of ivory at Entebbe International Airport on March 13. The ivory pieces were disguised as Sheer butter. NRCN, EAGLE host project in Uganda as a part of the joint investigation wrote cement efforts of AVIGREF, which resulted in a widespread massacre of protected species in the park.

EAGLE: Eco Activists for Governance and Law Enforcement, is a network of members across Africa, who are replicating effectively a program and operational model to undertake wildlife law enforcement, which is based on the LAGA-Cameroon model, trailed, practiced and tested since 2003. The EAGLE Network currently operates in eight African countries and keeps expanding.

The over-arching objective of the EAGLE Network is: Developing civic activism and collaborating with governments and civil society to improve the application of national and international environmental legislation, through a program of activities: investigations, arrests, prosecutions and publicity. Through this, EAGLE aims to generate a strong deterrent against the illegal trade in wildlife, timber and related criminal activities, including corruption.

Headquarters
- EAGLE Network Monitoring & Evaluation officer started training program. The M&E Officer is a permanent position in the Central Coordination Unit. His monitoring and validation is both monthly and ad-hoc with missions to Member operations as required. On a monthly basis the M&E Officer is to review and verify the Enforcement Results Report and a summary of results for the Network report. The information and targets to be included in the reports are details on circumstances, names of arrested and prosecuted individuals, corruption incidents and suspicions, analysis of causes, reasons for lack of results and photos. Specifically, the M&E Officer is to check procedures stipulated in the Procedure Manual and results of the Enforcement Model.
- Naftali Honig carried the first EAGLE steering group visit in Senegal working with Charlotte Houpline on different aspects of this replication.
- Naftali Honig represents the EAGLE Network in the Roundtable with Assistant Secretary of State William Brownfield. He raised corruption and governance as major factors effecting the fight against wildlife crime. Many others showed support for the work of EAGLE, and it’s importance and ability to bring significant results with very limited means.
